Mike McDonald

Senior Vice President of Manufacturing & Supply Chain

Mike McDonald serves as Senior Vice President of Manufacturing and Supply Chain for Buffalo Rock Company. Mike's responsibilities include strategic planning, goal setting, inventory management, and oversight of warehouse and transportation. Mike joined the Buffalo Rock team in the fall of 2017 and brings with him more than 35 years of manufacturing and logistics experience to his position.

While Vice President of Warehouse, Mike led strategic and tactical operations of five plant warehouses and 38 satellite warehouses at PepsiCo's Great Lakes division. Mike also oversaw the Great Lakes division's largest producing facility where he led efforts to drive overall line efficiencies, improve waste and reduce out-of-stocks, all while increasing employee satisfaction.

Mike and his wife, Julie, live in Mountain Brook and have two daughters who reside in Michigan. Giving back to the community through volunteer work, perpetuating their faith, and maintaining close relationships with friends and family are all of the utmost importance. The McDonalds are also sports enthusiasts and take great pride in their love of everything outdoors.
